Arielle Kasa : AussieTracks before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised AussieTracks:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Really Cute!!By S. KasaThis is a really cute comic book! Great for kids of all ages, and those who are kids at heart. The story and characters are reminiscent to those found in Disney comics, with comical humor and adventure. I read it to my six year brother, and he really loved it! My 10 year old sister loved it so much, she wants to buy her own copy! We are looking forward for more in this series!!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Absolutely Adored It!By MelissaThis is a very high quality comic book, with excellent art work as well as fun/clean humor which is important for our youth and is very rare to find these days. The story keeps the reader entertained, so dont try to get your kids to do their chores until they're done reading it... because you will be wasting your time, this is one comic book that you cant put down until you are done! We just ordered 3 more "Aussie Tracks" comic books to send to our Friends in Australia, we know they will get a kick out of it! Keep us

the great work, we are all waiting for Vol. 2

One City. One Crime Fighter. One Father. Daniel Dingo is the top crime fighting agent on the C.F.S record. He battles evil constantly, but the most difficult part of his job is... hiding his identity from his son. Dark and reserved, Daniel doesn't trust anyone with his secret, until he is discovered by a blunt and bankrupt kangaroo, Syd Ney. After Syd is mistaken as Daniel's partner, Daniel is obligated to take him along on a case to save a vanishing fish species. Join Daniel Dingo and Syd the kangaroo as they race against all odds to stop the evil Eelip Syzer; and begin a road to a life of timeless adventures...

From the Author AussieTracks truly is something to be read and cherished through many years to come. I have always loved cartoons since I was a child, and it's discouraging to see the entertainment given to children today, versus what I and many others had back then. AussieTracks brings back the charm of the late '80s/early '90s cartoons that are now all but passed. The characters are lovable, and the plots are interesting but have little violence and no crude humor, like we see in most media today. You will treasure the AussieTracks stories as you read on and follow Daniel Dingo and Syd Ney in their unforgettable adventures. If you liked cartoon shows like Ducktales, Talespin, Rescue Rangers, Gummi Bears, Darkwing Duck, etc. you'll LOVE the AussieTracks series. About the Author Arielle Kasa lives in California with her parents and four siblings. She expresses her life, her thoughts, and even her family through her characters as she travels to a world that no one could enter except her. Now, her dream is to share this world with others, and have other people enjoy the characters and stories as much as she had creating them and experiencing them. To be able to use imagination to jump into a whole new world is something mysterious, indescribable, and utterly wonderful. Arielle loves to do quiet things as in read, play piano, drawing especially, and enjoy the wonderful nature outdoors. After studying animation for quite some time, she moved on to comic books... a mixture between writing and animation. She wanted to create a world and adventures that she could express fully from her heart and wanted characters that she could form freely without any restrictions. AussieTracks was created years before Arielle became serious with the series, and now it has been 3 years since she finished her first volume. During that period in time, she was able to form and mold her characters and their surroundings on solid ground. She is currently finishing the artwork of VOL 3 in the AussieTracks series. Through Daniel Dingo and Syd's many adventures, Arielle has learned to cherish them and hopes to share the rest of their timeless adventures with all.
