3/4. That is really funny and I am assuming somewhat autobiographical. His English humor is great. I loved the part about trying to move a paperclip with his mind. If you have faith the size of a mustard seed you can move mountains, why won't this paperclip move? lol 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. fabulous book! By Readalot Another Wonderful Plass book. ... Filled with insights, humor, transparency, and truth. I recommend this book to doubters, followers, dreamers, and their friends. 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. seriously? By L.M. This entire book is nothing but a list of silly definitions. I wish I could get my money back. I can't believe I spent almost ten dollars on this.

"Halfway through the service our minister asked the congregation a question. 'For you, what is the most important thing in the world?' Liz and I answered more or less simultaneously. My reply was very proper and holy for a change. 'Salvation!' I cried piously. 'Bacon sandwiches!' suggested Liz, with all the passion and wisdom you would expect from a retired magistrate and area schools advisor for religious education. Yes, I thought to myself. Of course. Bacon sandwiches and salvation. That just about sums it up. A God who can create the indescribable tastiness of a bacon sandwich must be planning something pretty incredible in the salvation line."
