These ladies get themselves in such situations that you can only laugh yet you can't wait to see how they figure out their mystery. Their adventures take place in New Smyrna Beach, FL. By coincidence, I read these books while wintering in NSB! I know every place she is talking about! Love it!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.

I live in this area, so I recognize many of the places she talks about. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Teri M. DuronWell written book -enjoyed reading it!

Leigh is building a new, single life at the beach. Ruthie's in town for a spiritual seminar. Flamboyant Penny Sue, hot on the trail of her latest soul mate, buys a Harley and follows him to Bike Week. In true DAFFODILS fashion, no sooner do the sorority sister reunite, then all hell breaks loose. Bullets are flying, a body is found and all clues point to Rich, Penny Sue's new love. Unfortunately, Rich has disappeared into the hubbub of a half million bikers, beer bashes, and cole slaw wrestling. From the Publisher: In the tradition of "The First Wives Club" and Anne George's acclaimed Southern Sisters Mysteries, Mary Clay gives us a hilarious series about sorority sisters who come back together when the last of the trio divorces her two-timing husband.

"... delightful. Mary Clay expands her characters considerably, and the addition of Star Trek enthusiasts is a stroke of genius." -- Midwest Book "... one of the funniest capers this reviewer has had the privilege of reading." -- Harriet Klausner, .com #1 erFrom the AuthorThe DAFFODILS® now have their own blog to keep you up to date on their "between-the-books" goings-on. The blog is displayed on Mary Clay's page and is also available by email through Mary Clay's web site.About the AuthorAn economist by training, and a novelist by choice, Linda Tuck-Jenkins, a.k.a. Mary Clay, returned to her childhood love--writing--in her mid-40s. Her first book, Starpeople: The Sirian Redemption was First Runner-Up for Best New Age Fiction of 2001 and a Finalist for the 2002 IPPY Prize for Visionary Fiction. Convinced the ocean would enhance her creativity, Tuck-Jenkins twisted her husband's arm into moving to New Smyrna Beach, which is the setting for the wildly successful DAFFODILS* Mystery Series. (*Divorced And Finally Free of Deceitful, Insensitive, Licentious Scum) Called "Witty and hilarious" by Midwest Book , and "A fun read" by Southern Halifax Magazine, The Turtle Mound Murder-first book in the series-is already in its fifth printing. According to Harriet Klausner, 's #1 er, Bike Week Blues (second book in the series), "...is one of the funniest capers this reviewer has had the privilege of reading." The third book in the trilogy has been hailed as "a triumph."
