Pretty, gold foiled poster...By Cindy ButlerI received this product in exchange for a fair and honest review.My poster arrived in a heavy cardboard tube and in perfect condition. The measurements given in the description are accurate and the paper used is bright white and heavy enough for all coloring mediums. The artwork is done well and what I'd expect from a Peter Pauper product based on previous purchases. Featuring birds, butterflies, and flowers, there is enough detail to be challenging for adult colorists, but not so much that it's migraine inducing. As stated in the description, there is gold foiling added. There isn't any around the edges, but it gets more pronounced as you get closer to the center. It isn't overly gaudy or shiny, but the gold areas do add quite a bit to the appearance. Overall, this is a really pretty, feminine poster with fun artwork. It's perfect for adult and teen colorists on all skill levels and will look fantastic finished and framed. I would highly recommend it to anyone looking for an extensive art project, different wall decor, or who has issues with the tiny images found in many standard coloring books. It would also make a great group project for a night in. The pictures attached to my review are close-ups of different sections on the poster. Hopefully they will give a good preview of the artwork and the foiling.
