Rumni Saha : Blue Sky for All: A Book of Cooking Compassion before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Blue Sky for All: A Book of Cooking Compassion:

Blue Sky for All is a compilation of the wildly popular weekly column, "Kitchen Musings" by Rumni Saha, originally published in the Canton Citizen. In this book, Rumni shares her unique perspective on life, relationships, and current affairs while offering up a simple, delicious recipe for her readers. This book is the author's hope for what its name expresses—a simple wish for a blue sky for all. The world that we live in is a fascinating place; it is up to us to seek and find the beauty and kindness of the people who live in it. We can all leave behind a lasting legacy of love and peace. By pushing aside the clouds that blind us, we can see the one and only one blue sky that we are all part of. Let's believe that kindness is not an option; let's be part of the Blue Revolution.

About the Author Rumni Saha is an acclaimed newspaper columnist, a much-loved special needs teacher, and a dedicated family gal in a quiet suburb of Boston. She holds a masters degree in education from Boston University. Rumni writes and cooks with unfettered passion. Her stories are heartfelt, sensible, and often controversial yet always thought provoking. Her cooking style is simple, eclectic, and flavorful. "Cooking" she claims, "is not much different from teaching. Add some key ingredients, follow a few simple steps and always cook with love. The result is a recipe for success"
