This version has been upgraded. Now the pages are about 9 inches square and the thumbnail samples are about the size of a bar coaster. They are printed 4 per page so you get 100 mandalas to color. I love the new format. Mary Robertsons mandalas are not difficult. Most can be finished in about an hour. I like them for different challenges i give myself. My favorite is to choose 5 pencils with my eyes closed. I have discovered several color combinations this way that I would never put together on my own. Also tthe mandalas are easy enough fo me to make myself use colors I do not like or use often.

For coloring book enthusiasts who appreciate the charm and personality of hand-drawn artwork, here is the third edition of Mandalas: 50 Hand Drawn Illustrations, Vo.7, by artist Mary Robertson.
