Only if you're a real 'Sock Puppet' fanaticBy A CustomerThe Pets.com TV advertising campaign was hilarious. The commercials with the Sock Puppet standing in as the witty Pets.com 'Spokes-puppet' were pure marketing genius (although sadly not enough to stop their recent demise)... The book however, is only moderately amusing, and doesn't really capture the humor that was found in the TV commercials. A collection of pictures accompanied by some handwritten captions made for a fairly average read. I'd highly recommend purchasing the actual 'Sock Puppet' from .com...since I think for the extra few bucks it's more fun to entertain kids or co-workers with the charming little terry-cloth sock, than spending money on this book. Only diehard 'Sock Puppet' fans should spend their money here. I don't mean to be cutting, but I guess I was expecting a little more. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. 105 years old in dog time, and not holding up well. By Thom Burr There's only so much that nostalgia can help a bit of ephemera whose moment has long past. This glorified pamphlet is barely worth a smirk.

You know him as a superstar who has befriended both pet and human alike, traded quips with celebrities, and reinterpreted classic songs like "Spinning Wheel" and "If You Leave Me Now." But you've never seen the Pets.com Sock Puppet like this. The first official book on the biggest spokespuppet in the world contains exclusive full-color photos not found anywhere else -- complete with captions in the Sock Puppet's own words! For fans who have been anxiously awaiting a candid look at their favorite pooch, the wait is over.... The Pets.com Sock Puppet has appeared on Good Morning America, Regis and Kathi Lee, Access Hollywood and Nightline, as well as covered in media outlets such as Entertainment Weekly, Time and People magazines. The Pets.com Sock Puppet is a pop culture phenom, with his likeness appearing in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade, as well as in countless billboards, television commercials, and print advertisements. Pets.com is the #1 pet site on the Internet, and has strategic partnerships with Amazon, Disney and Safeway. 61% of American households own one or more pets.
