Mom comes home from work late and has a huge list of things to do to get ready for Christmas on this Christmas Eve night, but she's so tired she falls asleep. When she wakes up, her family is there and explains she doesn't need to worry about anything because it's already done!

About the Author Shauna Mooney Kawasaki of Provo, Ut has illustrated children's and adult literature. Sue Carabine author of many Night Before Christmas books is originally from England, worked as a publicist for Gibbs Smith, Publisher, she resides in Kaysville Utah. She is the mother of three and grandmother. Excerpt. Reprinted by permission. All rights reserved. 'Twas the night before Christmas as Mom lay asleep-- The house still and quiet, not even a peep. She woke with a start, cried, "How long have I slept?" Then looked at the time and just about wept! She remembered last night getting home very late 'Cause things at the office were in quite a state. Their business had tripled because of the season, So no one left early, no matter the reason. She'd rushed in the house with a list on her mind-- If she started right now, she'd not get behind. So all of these thoughts Mom wrote down on her list To make certain each task was completed, none missed.
