something to perk up my sermons. I thought most of them were not funny.

Sure, it's "sanctified imagination" - but you have to believe Moses had a good sense of humor to be able to lead those cranky Israelites on a 40-year desert journey. Assuming he knew a good joke when he heard one, here's a collection that might have made him proud: Moses' Favorite Travel Jokes! Patterned after Barbour's popular Noah's Favorite Animal Jokes (more than 100,000 sold), this brand-new collection features funny stories about planes, trains, and automobiles - and the people who use them. It's clean, good-natured fun appropriate for all ages - and it's perfectly timed for the summer travel season. Plus, it's a true value at only $1.99!
