Raymond Primus : The Most Photographed Person in the World!: You Just Can't Make This Stuff Up! before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Most Photographed Person in the World!: You Just Can't Make This Stuff Up!:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Pretty good read. We are more than friends.....By suprtigerInsightful Book! I never read anything like this before and I learned so many things. Ray Primus is a messenger from the gods. I met Ray Primus for the first time on a holy pilgrimage to Mecca, the club in Los Angeles. We hooked up. It was immediate spirit brotherhood, that is, brotherly love, of the most intense kind. Ray and I are now partners in our christian bookstore adventure and also... partners in life. Maybe Ray will change your life for the better too, if you buy this book! I gave this book four stars because I'm 85% certain that Ray actually isn't the most photographed person in the world, because movies take lots of photos to make the image move so probably it's some movie star like Nicholas Cage because he's been in a lot of movies. Some are really good. I would recommend Left Behind. It was excellent and eye opening. I never watched anything like that before and I learned so many things. Nicholas Cage is a messenger from the gods. I met nicholas cage for the first time in london where we went on a long dinner. We hooked up. It was immediate spirit brotherhood. That is, brotherly love, of the most intense variety. Nic and I are now partners in our bookstore adventure and also... partners in life. I would not have met Nic if not for Ray Primus. Maybe Nic will change your life for the better too, if you watch his movies. I would give them four stars, because they're not the best, but they're pretty dang entertaining!

This book relates the account of my experiences in Los Angeles that resulted in my becoming the most photographed person in the world (self proclaimed). Follow me on my supernatural journey from snow bound Connecticut to the sun drenched city of the stars. The book is filled with humor mixed in with spiritual insight based on Biblical references. You will see the author try to fit in with the Black community and all the fun he had living in the poorer section of town. His attempts at becoming a black man are zanny! Then he returns to the white community only to find culture shock. He describes the differences in the two communities with irreverant humor. Every day God provided him with supernatural opportunities and experiences. You'll love this book just because of the humor but more because of how God took a man willing to be used and blessed him beyond belief.

About the AuthorRay has owned a chain of Christian Bookstores and also has pastored a church in Connecticut. For twentyfive years he has ministered to thousands of people but he also has taught hundreds of people how to operate in the supernatural gifts of the Holy Spirit. He has authored four books on Christianity. You will love his other books. They are available at .com. Search for Raymond Primus.
