In fact I share them with my Senior group every week, and they also enjoy the jokes. And they do double duty also. I use the clear backs of the jokes for notes and anything paper plates can be used for. I've already ordered and received my 2013 calendar, so i'm all set for next year. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Worst Jokes Ever. By Jeffrey Orig These are the worst jokes ever. I bought this because the "Far Side" did not print a 2008 version of their page-a-day calendar. It is a terrible substitute. You are better off printing the numbers of the month and stapling them together and tearing them off a day at a time. Do not waste your money on this.

Never underestimate a dumb joke: Moe: I heard they put a new wing on the hospital. (Drum roll, please!) Joe: That's true, but I bet it still won't fly. The bestselling jokes calendar is back for 2008, packed with hundreds of riddles, knock-knocks, puns, silly definitions, and other groaners guaranteed to keep the whole family in stitches. Why does the navy recruit so many opera singers? Because they can handle high Cs. You'll giggle, you'll guffaw, you'll roll your eyes—but laugh at the same time. Why can't you borrow money from a leprechaun? Because he's always a little short.

From the Back Cover Groans guaranteed Did you hear the one about the duck who robbed banks? (Drum roll, please!) He was a safe quacker. Put the family in stitches with a laugh-out-loud year of riddles, knock-knock jokes, puns, silly definitions and other jokes—the dumber, the better. Moe: My parents live in New York and Florida. Joe: That must be a mighty big house. Argh!
