Joe Gentile : The Phantom: Law Of The Jungle before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Phantom: Law Of The Jungle:

Every society has its laws: some written, some un-written — for some are forbidden to be even spoken aloud. The penalty for breaking these laws is often swift and uncompromising. Combine the lack of this knowledge with the unhinged mind of a deadly assassin who is calling out the Phantom and you get nothing but fire. Bang the drum for Paul Guinan's (Chronos) painted art, which has an eerie cinematic quality that ignites a wanton rhythm into the night of the Bangalla jungle. You want to see him the way others see him in his world? This is your one chance... if the law allows...
