Sarah Clayton : The Politically Incorrect Nite B4 Xmas before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Politically Incorrect Nite B4 Xmas:

A spoof, sometimes dark and twisted but always humorous, of Clement Moore's VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS, this book exposes a seamier side to the holiday associated with unfettered merriment and the all-giving St. Nicholas. This Nite B4 version is a respite from the political correctness that has dominated the world for far too long; a balm for those who see the Simpsons, Southpark etc. as a fresh current rippling through our otherwise stagnating communal psyche. Written by mother and son team, Sarah Clayton and Nicholas Clayton-Syrrist, and illustrated by world renowned British artist Jerry Heath, this parody is exceptionally executed... and internationally tasteless.
